PRESS RELEASE

Consumers Association of Singapore introduces new Central Committee

The Consumers Association of Singapore (CASE) introduces its new line up of Central Committee members following its Annual General Meeting on June 24 this year.

The 20 Central Committee members come from diverse backgrounds, including academics, lawyers, directors in private companies and a financial columnist. Mr Yeo Guat Kwang, MP for Aljunied GRC, has been re-elected to lead the Central Committee as CASE President.

The Central Committee also welcomes six new members, including Mr Lim Biow Chuan, MP for Marine Parade GRC, who has been elected as one of the two Vice-Presidents of CASE.

The other five new members are:

- Mr Foo Robin, Director of Wave-Link Corporation
- Mr Larry James Haverkamp, financial columnist
- Mr Lim Yew Lee Max, General Secretary of Singapore Banks Employee Union
- Mr Abdul Kalam Azad S/O N Savukat Ally, Chairman at Singapore Statutory Boards Employee Co-op Thrift & Loan Society Ltd
- Dr Chew Siang Thai, Deputy Executive Director at Agri-food and Veterinary Authority of Singapore (AVA).

Mr Yeo said of the new committee: “The diverse profiles of the Central Committee members will enhance CASE in its mission to inform, educate and protect consumers. We will be able to tap on the experience of the members who are staying on and incorporate the perspectives of those who have just come on board. I believe the synergy of the new committee will further drive consumer-centric initiatives.”

Into its 35th year of inception, CASE will continue addressing issues of concern to consumers, advocating for relevant laws to be passed and collaborating with international organisations to further safeguard consumer interests. It also aims to provide better access to consumers, its newest initiative being a service centre at French Road which was set up in May this year.
